ourdiu.com | Shared by MD. Toha Hayder

Daffodil International University

Department of Computer Science and Engineering
Faculty of Science & Information Technology
Midterm Examination, Fall-2024
Course Code: AOL 101, Course Title: Art of Living
Level: 2 Term: 1 Batch: 65

Time: 1 Hour and 30 Minutes Marks: 25

Answer ALL Questions

[The figures in the right margin indicate the full marks and corresponding course outcomes.]

1.	The general public of the whole country is now in a paradox of selecting the right candidate for the upcoming election of the member of parliament (MP) from each District. As for the fair election, Election Commission has a vital role to play in filtering the good candidates. You and your friends came up with a unique Concept- Essential checklist to be a Political Leader: qualities a Political Leader must have for next election. The Election Commission liked your idea. So, Election Commission selected you as an 'Advisor' to the National Election Commission.			CO1, L2
	Q.	Outline and interpret your proposed list of values an Ideal Political Leader must have.	5
2.	Reflect on a time when you struggled with an exam. Illustrate how your self-esteem influences your emotional response to the result and your motivation for future efforts.		5	CO1, L2
3.	In a busy classroom environment, discussions can often become time-consuming, inefficient, and full of distractions. Some students feel the need to speak up just to be heard, while others dominate the conversation, which can make the discussion less productive. Choose an approach to solve this problem so that our classroom discussions improve focus, creativity, and collaboration.		5	CO3, L5
4.	Shams is a newly promoted team leader at a multinational company. As part of his new role, he is responsible for presenting project updates to senior management. In his first presentation, he struggled with maintaining eye contact and appeared nervous, which led to some confusion about the project's progress. Additionally, some team members felt he didn't effectively manage the team during a recent project, as he allowed a few missed deadlines to slide without addressing them. Recognizing his mistakes, Shams decided to seek feedback from his colleagues and improve his presentation and leadership skills. He attended a workshop on professionalism, focusing on improving impression management, refining his presentation skills, and learning how to turn his initial failure into future success.			CO2, L4
	Q.	Suppose you were the instructor of the workshop; list the suggestions you would provide on transforming failure in team management into future success.	5
5.	a)	Analyze how the lessons learned from parents influence your future parenting style.	2	CO2, L4
	b)	Categorize the aspects those you want to replicate and those you want to avoid.	3	