Question 1:

During an open seminar on national development, a participant argues that Bangladesh's demographic strengths—homogeneous population, cultural uniformity and cheap labour—are being undermined by rising unemployment, unskilled workforce and environmental degradation. The chair invites students to respond using a SWOT analysis.

Based on the above scenario, answer the following:

a. Construct a balanced SWOT analysis of Bangladesh's demography, drawing on the points presented in the lecture. (7.5 marks) (CO1)
b. Recommend three priority actions that could maximise the strengths and opportunities while mitigating the weaknesses and threats identified in your analysis. (7.5 marks) (CO1)
